

Rick Nelson, One Boy Too Late

Tell her you need her tell her you love her
Don't let another say the words you should have said

Or you'll be one boy too late to hold her tight
One boy too late to hold her every night and kiss her in the moonlight
One boy too late for happiness
One boy who'll never hear the answer yes and never know a sweet caress
Tell her you need her...

Or you'll be one boy too late to lonely two
One boy who didn't whisper I love you
So tell her now tell her now tell her now before I do
[guitar]
So tell her now tell her now tell her now before I do
