

Rick Springfield, River In Time

Now fly with the wind
The spirits running free
The mountains have turned to dust
And the desert is a ragging sea

I'm a prisoner no more
If I just believe my eyes
(it's hard to believe it)
(you've just got to believe it)
Now I've opened this door
And my future waits inside
(I know it's hard to believe)
Looking at eternity

Love is a River In Time
Now and forever
A bridge between lifetimes

Here there are no good-byes
And your dreams never die
Love is a River In Time

A million years from now
Will war be obsolete?
Will man live on the moon?
Will flowers smell as sweet?

Take this magic carpet ride
Going to the promise land
(I know it's hard to believe it)
(you've just got to believe it)
We shall need the human touch
Every woman, child and man
(everybody believe it)
(reach across and take my hand)

Love is a River In Time
(love is a River In Time)
Now and forever
A bridge between lifetimes

Here there is no future no past
Love is all we have
Love is a River In Time
A River In Time
