

Rick Trevino, I'm Here For You

people come and go, People change thier minds,
people give there hearts and mean it at the time
a shift in the wind and the drop of a tear someone says goodbye

But God as my witness
without a dought
I'll love you tomorrow
Like i love you now

Chorus:
I'm Here for you
Thought the good and the bad
take the wieght of the world
and divide it in half
In the years to come
There will be one
Promice that always holds true
I'm here for you

I know that you're scared
It's hard to have faith
When so many dreams
Somehow lose thier way
The path is'nt narrow
It turns and it twists
But i knew my future
The first time we kissed

But God as my witness
You can be sure
This heart you'er holding Will always be yours

Chorus:
I'm Here for you
Thought the good and the bad
and divide it in half
In the years to come
There will be one
Promice that always holds true
I'm here for you

In the years to come
There will be one
Promice that always holds true
I'm here for you
