

Rick Wright & Dave Harris, Private Person

We may talk but you don't listen
You twist a tale, you'll lose the comprehension
Seems communication's missing
And everything I say
Don't you think you're missing something
Thinking what you're missing
You seem to draw your own conclusions
'Bout what you need, and what you think and feel
Understanding your illusions, I feel nothing
We all need something
That's private
We all need something
That's private
You seem to draw your own conclusions
'Bout what you need, and what you think and feel
Understanding your illusions, I feel nothing
Don't you think you're missing something
Thinking what you're missing
Don't you think you're missing something
Thinking what you're missing
We may talk but you don't listen
You twist a tale, you'll do the comprehension
Seems communication's missing
And everything I say
We all need something
That's private
We all need something
That's private
We all need something
That's private
We all need something
That's private
Someday
