

Ride, Crown Of Creation

Don't wake me up if it's another day
'cos I don't wanna see it on my own
Your love is all that I am asking for
But they won't let us be alone
I've been running for a thousand miles
I didn't find a better place
I need to hold your body in my arms
And feel your kisses on my face

Don't you hide your love away
You are the Crown of Creation
I wanna be your relation
I'm getting off at your station

Well I was looking for a waterfall
And whatever nature showed to me
To be alone these things just bring you down
When you can share them, then you're free
When I wake up next to you
And I breathe the morning air
I know that you're the only one for me
Baby, nothing can compare
