

Ride, Natural Grace

I've been higher than all of you 'til the sun's in my eyes
And the sky is blue
And all that's left for me to do
Is to come back down
To the ground
These moments away make your heart ring true
They open your eyes
Find out what you can do
And all that's left for me to do
Is to come back down, inside

Well I live
In this place
With a natural grace
And I walk
Through confusion
With a smile on my face

So I stumble here, and tumble there
...We all need someone to love and care
And though these moments may change
You'll still be the best thing
That I ever had
