Rides Again, It's too late

I don't know where I belong
I feel as cold as a burnt out love song
Look how we fell out of line
Not even heaven can save us this time
It's too late
Don't go try to be the hero
If you can't save yourself
Don't try giving me your whole life
If you want someone else
Oh I am only a man
I've only given you all that I am
So go and throw me away
I wanna know that I'm just a mistake
It's too late
Don't go try to be the hero
If you can't save yourself
Don't try giving me your whole life
If you want someone else
Tell me all your secrets, they feel so wrong
Tell me you are leaving, I knew all along
We are going crazy, yeah so they say
If its really over, get out of my way
Get out of my way
I don't know where I belong
I feel as cold as a burnt out love song
It's too late
It's too late
Don't go try to be the hero
If you can't save yourself
Don't try giving me your whole life
If you want someone else
