

Rilo Kiley, Pull Me In Tighter

There's no need for depression, and no, I don't have the blues.
Wouldn't wanna go to heaven if I can't go there with you.
And I still count my blessings when I am standing with you.
And no, I never learned my lesson; I'm still a dedicated fool.

And baby I will try for the sake of you and I.
And baby I will survive all the heartbreak love inspires.

There's no need for guessing when you are faithfully true.
Though my body may wander, my mind is always with you.
And in the depths of destruction, there is but one golden rule:
Look not onto your neighbor.
Save yourself first, you silly fool.

And baby I will try for the sake of you and I.
And baby I will get by on whatever you provide.
And baby I will survive all the heartbreak love inspires.
And baby I will survive.
Oh, I will survive.

Pull me in tighter, pull me in tighter, yeah.
Pull me in tighter, pull me in tighter, yeah.
Pull me in tighter, pull me in tighter, yeah.
Pull me in tighter, pull me in tighter, yeah.

When you see me coming, take off your running shoes.
No more arms and no more weapons when I am coming for you.

And baby I will try for the sake of you and I.
And baby I will get by on whatever you provide.
And baby I will survive all the heartbreak love inspires.
And baby I will survive.
Oh, I will survive.
Baby, I will survive.
Oh, I will survive.

Baby, I will survive.
Oh, I will survive.
Baby, I will survive.
Oh, I will survive.
Baby, I will survive.
Oh, I will survive...
