

Ringside, Strangerman

Strangerman

Who are you to leave this way
You changed your plans
You've burned your bridges
And you'll leave them this way
Are you so aloof
That you trade directions
When the winds change

When you walk ahead
You leave me behind

Strangerman

You never talked to me
You never listened
I had a voice you could not hear
I had warmth I could not share
You were cold as a stone
I was so alone

When you walk ahead
You leave me behind

Strangerman

Who are you
To leave this way
