

Rise Against, Everchanging

in the face of change that's when she turned to me and said,
"i'm not sure anymore..."
and there amidst the waves and the cloudless skies that blanket the year before i watch my life wash a shore have you ever been a part of something that you thought would never end? and then of course it did have you ever felt the weight inside you pulling away inside your skin? and then something had to give

[Chorus:]
now the lines are drawn is this feeling gone?
the best parts of this have come and gone and now that is all this is
with the reasons clear we'll spend another year without direction, full of fear and now things will be different there's nothing simple when it comes to you and i always something in this everchanging life and it probably always will now that time is getting harder to come by the same arguments are always on our mind we've killed this slowly fading light

[Chorus:]
is this feeling gone?
we'll spend another year
but now things will be different and now something has kept me here too long and you can't leave me if i'm already gone well now something (hey) has kept me here too long and you can't leave me (hey) if i'm already gone now let's say that something (hey) has kept me here too long

make the same mistakes we're always hanging on break the promises we're always leaning on all this time spent waking up {now i} keep this line open to get this call from you {as you} speak the words that keep me coming back to you now this time it's all different now something has kept me here too long and now i'm gone...
