

Rita Ora, Look At Me Now

I've made peace with the mirror
It took all of hell
Just to love myself
Now I'm seeing things clearer
Don't need anyone else

Take it with a pinch of salt
People always come and go
I won't keep my enemies close
More you see the more you learn
Better off for being burnt
Breathe it in then let it go

Throw your stones
Until I'm broken
They won't bring me down
Even in my
Darkest moments
I am happy now

Shoot me with your best shot
Hold me in a headlock
Give me all you got baby
Aim for the heart
Throw your stones
Until I'm broken
They won't bring me down
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now
Look at me now

Mended things with my mother
Now I look like her
And I found the words

So I tell her I love her
And she knows me like no other

Oh, take it with a pinch of salt
People always come and go
I won't keep my enemies close
More you see the more you learn
Better off for being burnt
Breathe it in then let it go

Throw your stones
Until I'm broken
They won't bring me down
Even in my
Darkest moments
I am happy now

Shoot me with your best shot
Aim for the heart
Throw your stones
Until I'm broken
They won't bring me down
Look at me now
Look at me now
