

River Road, Tears to the Tide

(Gary Nicholson/Gary Burr/Sarah Beth Hooker)

I can't believe I let you take me down again
To the cold dark water
A sea of lies, and I let myself fall in
And I can't swim
I'm far beyond the point of rescue
It makes no difference what you do

You've already pulled me under
One more heartache can't hurt me none
Cause when you're drowning in sorrow
And an ocean's been cried
What's a few more tears to the tide

I used to think that if I heard the word goodbye
It would all be over
Now that it's over, it's just one more wave
That I will try to survive
I don't know what you think you've got to prove
You've done all the damage you can do

You've already pulled me under
One more heartache can't hurt me none
Cause when you're drowning in sorrow
And an ocean's been cried
What's a few more tears to the tide

So you can go ahead and walk away
I won't even feel the pain

You've already pulled me under
One more heartache can't hurt me none
Cause when you're drowning in sorrow
And an ocean's been cried
What's a few more tears to the tide

What's a few more tears to the tide
