

Rivets, Indecision

Indecision

Running thru my mind

Just like the blood inside my veins

I have to get it together and throw this shit fucking away

Responsibility

Stressing all my nerves

Making my body weak again

A have to get it together and throw this shit fucking away

I'm getting better with my life

Starting to control till everything is alright

I'll get all bad things together and throw this shit fucking away

Insecurity

Coming to my mind

When something important is to say

I have to get it together and throw this shit fucking away