

Rj Helton, Even If

In this moment I will have no fears
There aint gonna be no doubt
Aint gonna be no tears
As Im walking on this road of my faith
I wont let anything
Stand in my way

Even if the sun refuses to shine
Even if the moon was to run and hide
Even if the shadows cover the ground
Even if the pathways couldnt be found
Even if my eyes failed to see the way
This is the testimony I would say
That you have always brought me through the night
You are still the love, love of my life

You will protect me through the rain (oh ya oh ya oh yaa)
Through the season you will never change (oh ya)
You will lift me high above the storm
I know I will never be alone

Even if the sun refuses to shine
Even if the moon was to run and hide
Even if the shadows cover the ground
Even if the pathways couldnt be found
Even if my eyes failed to see the way
This is the testimony I would say
That you have always brought me through the night
You are still the love, love of my life

I will be humble
In your eyes
Im just gonna do what
You tell me to do
Every day of my life

When the sun doesnt shine
When the moon runs to hide
When the shadows cover the ground
You are still the love of my life

Even if the sun refuses to shine
Even if the moon was to run and hide
Even if the shadows cover the ground
Even if the pathways couldnt be found
Even if my eyes failed to see the way
This is the testimony I would say
That you have always brought me through the night
You are still the love, love of my life
