

Robert Cray, Some Pain, Some Shame

The look on your face
Tells me where you've been

And every time you walk out of that door
I act a fool to let you back in (??)

You're not the only one makin' plans
Before I get burned you need to understand

There'll be some pain, some shame

Now something went wrong
That I didn't see

Even someone who was out of their mind
Couldn't even have mercy on me

I'm not gonna take the blame
What made you decide that we didn't need a thing?

But some pain, some shame

(Guitar solo)

Now something went wrong that I didn't see
Even someone who was out of their mind
Couldn't even have mercy on me

Hangin' around cryin' ain't part of my plans
I'm gonna see you on the witness stand
There'll be some pain, some shame

Man, I mean
Some pain, some shame