

Robert Cray, Your Pal

Your pal is always there
Whenever you need him
Hold your hand
While another man breaks your heart
Not one to judge
Or hold a grudge, your pal

Did you ever think he was the one for you?
Maybe you should look no further
You're the only one that doesn't know it
That he's the love you're lookin' for

He walks the dog
Always gets the mail
Your pal
Rain or shine
He's always on time
He holds the door
Even mops the floor, your pal

Did you ever think he was the one for you?
Maybe you should look no further, sister
You're the only one who doesn't know it
That he's the love you're lookin' for

No one's gonna
Wait forever
What's the harm?
You got nothin' to hide
Just pay for your ticket
And take a ride with your pal

Did you ever think he was the one for you?
Maybe you should look no further
You're the only one that doesn't know it
That he's the love you're lookin' for

He's the love you're lookin' for

He could be
The love
You're lookin' for
