

Robert Grenier, Live Uptown

Reach

Just reach out your hand

To the ones you love

Tell them they have meaning

Run

Wild in the streets

With a group of friends

They have passed your screening

Bleed

Hasten with the blood

It is not your own

It belongs to heaven

Breathe

Multiply your breaths

They will make you rise

They are like a leaven

Or you can live uptown without making a sound

Know

That you are not alone

There are others like you

And you will meet them soon

So be

Exactly who you are

Don't rush to compromise

Just try to stay in tune

Or you can live uptown without making a sound

You can live uptown just wearing a crown

You can live uptown and watch the whole world go round
