

Robert M, Start Again

Just start again
What can you do when the sky falls in on you
Around your feet
You take a chance and try to make it through

Rewind repeat
And still we keep driving through the day
Planning the games we need to play
Only the rules will stay the same out here

Ref. (x2):
So bring it back and start again
Just start again
Work it out till only love remains
Just start again

Another day and you're closer to the sun
And time is out
Plan of the hours and you count them every one
So scream and shout

And still we keep driving through the day
Planning the games we need to play
Only the rules will stay the same out here
Again we keep driving through the night

I hope we are headed for the light
Only your dreams to leave the way out here

Ref.: So bring it back and start again
Just start again
Work it out till only love remains
Just start again
