

Robert Miles, Everyday Life

Maybe this world is a broken mirror
Reality in reverse
Maybe it's just a shadow of a parallel universe
I don't know
Why do I want to go there?
Why do I really care?
Why should I climb a mountain?
Find a way - if you dare

There's a universal language I shall learn to speak
Maybe then I will find the answers that I seek
And I will fly to higher ground high above the clouds
See the stars up closer watch the world go around

Why do I want to go there?
Why do I really care?
Why should I climb a mountain?
Find your way - if you dare

A universal language we can learn to speak
Talk with a creator
No more hide and seek
Global understanding
An end to all the strive
Seems to me the only challenge that we have is everyday life