

Robert Plant, Trouble Your Money

I had a dream last night - didn't come as a surprise
When I woke up wet with the moon in my eyes
Just the same old dream - like the one before
But this time I thought you were there for sure
Hot-blooded, red-handed by me
I don't know what I'm gonna do

So when I wake up - every night it's the same
Just lying there staring and confused yet again
I could swear now I do as I fumble in the dark
For the line or the light from the tear in my heart
It's here again - hot-blooded, heavy-headed, baby - looking for you
And here it comes again --

Now I will carry the torch - I will come with the flame
For the friend that I meet in my sleep with no name
Had a dream last night - didn't come as a surprise
When I woke up wet with the moon in my eyes
Here I am, here I am again, looking for you
And here it comes again --
Every night it's the same --
