

Robert Post, There's One Thing

I have had my time on the street
Been out there and never found my way back home
All the city lights have guided me to this
I ended up to be
Someone else than me
But i'm happy now

There's one thing you should know
It hasn't always been like this
No

I've got memories after all these years
I have collected dreams on my way back home
Breathing was a tough case
I just couldn't find my breath
It is easier now, as I
Have learned to accept facts
I have found my lungs

There's one thing you should know
It hasn't always been like this
No

I thought it was a hard case walking all the oceans
It's not a problem
I have got a boat
I don't need to run

There's one thing you should know
It hasn't always been like this
