

Robi Rosa, Embryo

hey there you go they don't understand you you are the decadence the complicated soul tired of all
swelling in the eyes and you're left alone so you find you're around that point lonely man despaired up there fragrance of the cold and then love is never here

the silhouette of solitude's your only friend... in here the brutal sin of happiness is running scared out there...

hello i love you
im on my way
hello i need you
I need you everyday alright

you are the beginning
you're deranged
schizophrenic reasoning and your world revolves around intoxication,
you are a nullified creation iconoclastic lead
i don't want to entertain out there in here

hello i love you
hello i need you
i need you everyday
im on my way
hello i need you

i'll be gone before the sun

hello i love you
im on my way
hello i need you
hello i love you
im on my way
hello i need you
