

Robi Rosa, Sunshine

if i could love you sunday mornings then everyday would be ok...

if i could kiss you when you bore me then i would want to fade away...

if i could be the only sunshine in your veins
i'd say that i just want to fly with you today
i would

if i could fall for you tomorrow then i would call you cabure...

if you could be my world of sorrow then i would have my belovancy...

if i could be the only sunshine in your veins
i'd say that i just want to fly with you today
i would...

if i could turn your eyes of stone to abness then you could see that i would marry you...

now if you could fall for me tomorrow i wanna fly and bleed with you... bleed with you
bleed with you
