

Robin Gibb, One Million Years

I'm dead my life's been sold all my years are cold

no trees to hide my head

all my roads are red

and in the Easter

I will see that same old sun that shone

and in the winter

I will stand in seas of snow alone

I will wait for you yeah !

Your eyes will shine like dew.

Yeah ! I close my eyes and you're now here.

And I'll wait for you

for one million years !

I'm face has long been wet ever since we met

we wed

I knew she'd stay

then I passed away.

And in the Easter

I will see that same old sun that shone

and in the winter

I shall stand in seas of snow alone

I will wait for you yeah !

Just like you want me to.

Yeah ! I'll close my eyes and you're now here.

And I'll wait for you.

For one million years !
