

Robyn, My Truth

If I dont say what you want to hear if I dont dress in what you want me to wear if I dont think the way you do

I cant help it cause thats my truth

If my humour makes you bored if my religion isnt yours if my maturity doesnt fit my youth

I cant help it cause thats my truth

Chorus:

See, the truth often hurts but if its honest its always worth it cant deny that Im subjective but no truth can be objective even though its universal its always individual my truth, your truth, his truth, her truth it doesnt matter as long as its true

If my culture is something you dont know its unfamiliar and its uncomfortable

I suggest you get to know my roots before you judge me cause thats my truth

If your opinion is different from mine if where I say go is where you draw the line even if I may not agree

I will accept cause its your truth and it sets you free

(Chorus)

Dont you loose your truth, for whatever its worth dont you try to compromise with your own life

(Chorus to fade)
