

Roch Voisine, Deliver Me

2 o'clock in the morning god im still awake
thunder rolls like a warning my hearts about to brake

lying here beside you
where love used to be

deliver me
deliver me
im losing ground
you're the only one cant you see
deliver me
cuz i hear the sound
of your voice and i feel whole again, babe
please deliver me

i never could understand it why something so strong as hard as you try to hold it can turn out so wrong

down on my knees

deliver me
deliver me
im losing ground
deliver me
cuz i hear the sound
of your voice and i feel whole again, babe

from the words we should have said
deliver me
from the shadows in my head baby please
deliver me
deliver me

deliver me
deliver me
im losing ground
deliver me
cuz i hear the sound
of your voice and i know you'll deliver me

deliver me
cuz i hear the sound
so baby take me home again or set me free
deliver me
deliver me
im down on my knees
