

Roch Voisine, Helene English Version

TWO hundred miles from my home a million miles from you living without you on my own u know its hard to do and through the nite feeling its gone you know i need you so lighting and thunder may appear but u know im forever here.

time will never tear us apart will never leaves us braking hearth.

believe in me you know how i relly feel my love how i want u need

Helen, things you do
Make me crazy 'bout you

Helen,when you say good bye it always makes me cry

Helen, things you do
Make me crazy 'bout you

Helen,stay just one more nite so you dont have to leave until then end of time

Helen, things you do
Make me crazy 'bout you can you stay just one more night can u stay by myside

TWO hundred milles from my home and so many miles from you living without you on my own you know its hard to do
and through the nite feeling its gone you know i need you so (bis)
