

Rock Kills Kid, Are You Nervous?

Now you know that it's all your fault
How are you doing with it?
Hey, are you nervous?
Everything that you've ever known will go up in flames
Tell me, are you nervous?

And the sky will fall down on you and the world still turns around, round, round.
And the sky will fall down on you as your life goes on down, down, down.

Everything that you've ever done will come back to haunt
Tell me, are you nervous?
Now you know that it is for sure
How are you taking it?
Do you deserve this?

And the sky will fall down on you and the world still turns around, round, round
And the sky will fall down on you and your life goes on down, down, down
