

Roger Hodgson, Desert Love

Did I tell you I need your love a little more each day
Did I tell you I'm feeling old since you went away
Did I tell you my love was cold like the desert night
Did I tell you my heart was dry like the desert sky

Oh, will you love me again?
Won't you help out a friend?
Will you love me again?
Did I tell you my lips were cold like the desert night
Did I tell you my heart was dry like the desert sky
If I need anyone to hold will you say you might

Oh, will you love me again?
Won't you help out a friend?
Will you love me again?
