Roger Tylor, Belive In Yourself

I used to think I was a loser And all I did was bound to fail To be a shaker and a mover Keep the bad guys off your tail Everybody wanna get to the top of the heap sometime Everybody wanna climb to the top of the hill sometime Everybody gotta take a little piece of the heat sometime Everybody gotta stand on their own two feet, sometime I mean you, and I mean you I mean you, and I mean you Believe in yourself, and nobody else Everybody wants a shot at a lick of the cream sometime Everybody wanna go, make a bit of a show sometime Everybody need a chance, tap into the flow sometime Everybody wanna trip, get a crack of the whip, sometime I mean you and I mean you I mean you and I mean you Believe in yourself, and nobody else People with problems People on streets People down your way People you meet (Here follows a rather odd list)
