Roisin Murphy, Movie Stars

I'm a trusting soul, I m ashamed of living dangerously I'm a headstrong girl, I m afraid I won't be told I feel my destiny is only 'round the corner Sugar daddy promised me I II be sitting on top of the world He saw my naked ambitions Said I would leave them wanting more That could be crazy wishing We could ever have it all Have it all, have it all We'll make a movie, we'll break into cinema You'll be director, and I ll be your movie star We'll make a movie, the darlings of cinema You'll be director, and I ll be your movie star So he's a headstrong guy and perhaps I shouldn't listen There's a million girls wanna be in my position If he tells me lies I II suspend my disbelieving I leave it all behind, I ain't asking for permission Feels like a new beginning And there's so much to explore It's not so crazy thinking We could really have it all Have it all, have it all We'll make a movie, we'll break into cinema You'll be director, and I ll be your movie star We'll make a movie, the darlings of cinema You'll be director, and I II be your movie star Movie star Movie star