

Roisin Murphy, The Universe

"This sunset is off the scale. It is off, and I was like..."

We got us a day made for sailing
We got us a day that will take us away
So far from home
Here comes the road rising up to meet us
How come the wind's always at our backs?

I guess we were wrong
The universe is singing our song
Everything is pushing us on
When to you I do belong?

I guess we were wrong
The universe is singing our song
Everything is pushing us on
When to you I do belong?

...this boat, and we're happy with that and, the next thing you know, we were out in the middle of the

I'm gonna row, row, row, row
Row my boat
Row my boat
Row my boat
Row my boat
Row my boat
I'm gonna row, row, I'm gonna row
I'm gonna row

I guess we were strong
The multiverse is singing our song
What possibly could go wrong
When to you I do belong?

It's inevitable
If you're afraid to fail
We may never set sail

Giving yourself to me
How could it ever be wrong?
Giving yourself for free
It only shows that you're strong

Giving yourself to me
How could it ever be wrong?

I guess we were wrong
The universe is singing our song
Everything is pushing us on
When to you I do belong?
When to you I do belong?
When to you I do belong?

Giving yourself to me
How could it ever be wrong?
Giving yourself for free
How could it ever be wrong?

To you...
