

Roller Derby, Say How Come

Heard you say it's gonna last
And no one doubts I'm fine
Can't you see what's missing here
All the years are passing by

Say how come I'm
Always feeling lonely by your side
I swear it's true you will
Never see the teardrops in my eyes

And your glasses taste like wine
Seen this for a long, long time
And your glasses taste like wine
I remember every fight
I don't know when I stopped liking you
Must've been quite a while ago
But I cannot speak carelessly
Only live it in my dreams

Say how come I'm
Always feeling lonely by your side
I swear it's true you will
Never see the teardrops in my eyes

No more heartaches
Running through my veins, love
No more heartaches
Running through my veins

Say how come I'm
Always feeling lonely by your side
I swear it's true you will
Never see the teardrops in my eyes
