Rolling Stones, If I Was A Dancer (Dance Part 2)

(Jagger/Richards)

I stand accused of talking But I feel that we are falling In the same old groove The radio is playing Spitting out the same old news

It's time to get up, get out Get out into something new Time to get up, get out Out into something new

Everybody wants somebody's fantasy Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams Everybody wants somebody's fantasy Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams

If I was a woman, I would want a new man every night If I was a woman, I would want a new man every night If I was a politician, make sure I was the best in sight If I was a woman, I would want a new man every night

The poor man eyes the rich man Denigrates his poverty The rich man eyes the poor man And envies his simplicity

Everybody wants somebody's fantasy Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams

If I was a movie star, five million dollars would be my price If I was a trucker, I'd drive for seven days and seven lonely Nights
If I was a drummer, I would never miss the beat If I was a dancer, y'all would never see my feet

If I was a hooker, a thousand dollars would be my price, all right If I was a candidate for President, I'd make sure I had a steady wife If I was a millionaire, I'd spend all my money in one crazy night

I am what I am
Yeah, my my boss I am what I am
My dreams can't be bought Yeah, I said now
I tear across the dollar Just to end this day with you Yeah, I am what I am
I am my own boss Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams
Everybody want somebody's fantasy
Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams

Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams Everybody want somebody's fantasy Everybody wants somebody's crazy dreams
