Rolling Stones, No Use In Crying

(M. Jagger/K. Richards/R. Wood)

Ain't no use in crying Stay away from me Standing in the kitchen Looking way out cross the fields You see a face in the window It not real, it not real Ain't no use in crying Stay away from me Ain't no use Standing at the station Gazing down the track There ain't no train coming baby I ain't never, never coming back Standing in the balcony Looking way towards cross the sea If you see your ship come a sailing It not me, it not me It's not me Stay away from me Hey you Ain't no use, ain't no use Stay away from me Ain't no use in crying Stay away from me
