Ronan Keating, Once Upon A Lifetime

Once upon a lifetime
I looked in someone's eyes
And felt the fire burning in my heart
For the very first time
I was scared and young
And had never tasted love
But a woman took my hand
And turned the boy into a man
Once upon a lifetime

Once upon a lifetime You hold the Queen of Hearts But if you gamble on a diamond when The dealin' starts

You stand to lose it all As the cards begin to fall And the lesson learned is hard You're only dealt the queen of hearts Once upon a lifetime

So if you're taking chances, know the chance you take A broken heart's a high price to pay Foolish ways will make fools of the wise And the best things seldom come along twice

Once upon a lifetime You know that you've been blessed When you hold your first born tenderly Against your chest

And through the innocence you see The value of a family And you feel a special bond That only comes along Once upon a lifetime

So if you're taking chances, know the chance you take A broken heart's a high price to pay Foolish ways will make fools of the wise And the best things seldom come along twice And people only find love like yours and mine Once upon a lifetime
