

Ronnie Milsap, It's All I Can Do

It's been a while, how have you been
It's really good, you know, to see you again
You'd think by now these old feelings had died
But it only takes just one look in your eyes.

Chorus:

And It's all I can do to talk about the weather
Keep myself together when I'm falling apart
And it's all I can do to smile and say I'm fine
When I'm really losing my mind
It's all I can do to keep this heart from breaking in two.

To see the lips I used to kiss
Doesn't make it easy to just stand here like this
I get to thinking I'm doing all right
Then I see those arms that once held me so tight

Chorus:

And It's all I can do to talk about the weather
Keep myself together when I'm falling apart
And it's all I can do to smile and say I'm fine
When I'm really losing my mind
It's all I can do to keep this heart from breaking in two...
