

Ronnie Milsap, Let My Love Be Your Pillow

When you need a good friend well here I am
And if you have a problem I'll be your helping hand
If you have a bad day I'll make you a good night
And if you ever lose your way you know I'll be your guiding light.

Just let my love be your pillow
Lay your worries down and rest your head on me
Just let my love be your pillow
And let me turn your life into a beautiful dream.

Well, I won't promise you there won't be hard times
We'll share whatever comes down each road of life
And if things turn out wrong you can turn to me
Let my arms be your blanket when you sleep.

Just let my love be your pillow
Lay your worries down girl rest your head on me
Just let my love be your pillow
And let me turn your life into a beautiful dream.

Just let my love be your pillow
Lay your worries down and rest your head on me
Just let my love be your pillow
And let me turn your life into a beautiful dream...
