

Ronnie Milsap, You're Stronger Than Me

If you are sincere when you say you don't care
That our love is just a memory
If the love that we knew won't bother you
Darling, you're stronger than me.

For if still loving you means I'm weak, then I'm weak
For I still fall apart when we speak or we meet
If the love that we knew won't bother you
Darling, you're stronger than me.

If you can have fun with some other one
With no thought of what used to be
If it's easy to say that it's better this way
Darling, you're stronger than me.

For if still loving you means I'm weak, then I'm weak
For I still fall apart when we speak or we meet
If the love that we knew won't bother you
Darling, you're stronger than me.

Darling, you're stronger than me...
