

Rookie Of The Year, Liars And Battlelines

It's hard to believe a liar,
When she's calling out your name.
The signals are calling out so well.
You called her lover. (lover)
She punished you so deep.
Her voice rings out like a beautiful melody.

I'm breaking all the angles.
I'm falling down in circles.
I am gasping for sleep.
Did you see me falling.
Like a sundown in the evening.
I am so dark and weak.

So shes packing up to leave
for good now.
Battlelines have been drawn out love.
And when we drive will take that long way home.
And i apologize for bleeding words.
Will pack our things like we should.
And go our ways back home.

It's hard to believe a story
thats been told so well,
All these lines are sounding the same
Cross my fingers, hold your breath
Suburban legend, queen of that i leave you with this beautiful melody

and so shes packing up to leave
for good now.
Battlelines have been drawn out love.
And when we drive will take that long way home.
And i apologize for bleeding words.
We'll pack our things like we should.
And go our ways back home.

wooooooaaahhh
wooooooaaahhhh

I'm breaking all the angles.
I'm falling down in circles.
ohhhh (ohhhh)

and so shes packing up to leave
for good now.
Battlelines have been drawn out love.
And when we drive will take that long way home.

And i apologize for bleeding words.
We'll pack our things like we should.
And go our ways back home.

So shes packing up to leave
