

Rooney, Meltdown

but nobody sees you
you're out on the edge
but you're not in danger because you're only two feet above the ground

you're out on a mission
for recognition
a show to sell out
but you've already sold out you fucking sellouts

no one, no one cares
how close you were to the end no one, no one sees the changes you've made for yourselves

you need to break
apart from your egos
you need a break
to find a new image
'cause you're not rock stars but you should be

for recognition
to quote yourselves
i've figured you out
you're so complex

oh yes, oh yes, they're coming on strong and maybe by monday
their songs will live on
but the meltdown
the meltdown
the meltdown...
