

Rooster, On The Road

Standing there
I could feel it happening
It happened to be happening to you and me
Took me off my feet
Made me pursue it
Now you tell me you're not mine exclusively

So I push you to one side

And then I see you again
And that look is in your eyes
You blew my mind but it wasn't real
So I'm back and on the road again

Life rolls on
And I'm rolling with it
Never worried by the troubles of company
Sometimes it sparks, sometimes it doesn't
But I'm happy there's no dreaming of you and me

So I push you to one side

And then I see you again
And that look is in your eyes
You blew my mind but it wasn't real
So I'm back and on the road again

So I pushed you to one side
And I finally got you out of my life
Now I've opened my eyes
Then I see you again
And that look's still in your eyes
Yeah you blew my mind
But you know it wasn't real

And then I see you again
And that look is in your eyes
You blew my mind but it wasn't real
So I'm back and on the road again
