

Rory Gallagher, Lost At Sea

Lost at sea like a sailor,
You found me you were my saviour.

Tossed about like a coaster,
The reef was near but you came closer.
Reaching out I don't know how.

Raise the sails and leave,
And take me straight home.
I can almost see the distant shoreline.

Caught in tides friends of no-one,
Winds which lie drove me straight on.
Who knows where but I was spared.
