Rory Gallagher, Road To Hell

Soft-soaped on the road to Hell So many times I've tripped and fell No chances left The sky is falling down on me

Yeah....

One step from the demons' fire Can't stop the train, and flames get higher Too late to save me The wall's coming down on me

Yeah...

Broken wishes and broken dreams Close to the edge, I cut it lean No regrets The flame's getting higher on me

Yeah...

Push the tempo, push the time No excuses, not this time No way out The ground's opening up on me

Yeah... oh yeah...

Can you feel the heat? Coming from the street Pouring down on me... yeah...

They tried to keep me on a long thin chain Thanks, but no thanks just the same You saw it coming The devil's got the jump on me

Yeah...

Lost soul on the road to Hell Wind up the motor and ring the bell No stopping now The pain's coming down on me

Yeah...

Straight time on the road to Hell No mercy time at the wishing well No turning back The Angels gonna cry on me

Yeah....
