Rosi Golan, Shine

This life is light, Its light burns bright So well take it day by day and let it be And everyone will see how good it feels Oh theyll see the world for all that it could be Let the sunlight in, I wanna feel it from within You spin me around and make me feel like I could Shine, shine. So what do you say if the sky turned grey? With a kiss youd send the rainclouds on theyre way This life is light, its light burns bright Every moment is a moment you could say
