

Rosicrucian, Words Without Meaning

Are you around when I am crying
I cannot trust the words that you say Are they just not the signs of your greed the day will come when you must repay I believed in your soul and the things that you said but the memories are all turning grey I got no feelings left, you think I'm misled but it's only yourself that you've betrayed
I will love to watch you fall Feel your own blade
cutting deep into your back Feel your own blood
feel my hate
I'll get you what you need for the brains that you lack I'll love to watch you bleed
Cause it's all just
Words without meaning
Words without meaning
All that you say
After the wake if morning ever comes only the emptiness will stay Out of the past into the frozen world are you man enough to meet another day Like a tree without roots you got no control you are too lost to find the only way Through the tunnel of lust you run with your burden you think you're god - but it's me you must obey It's only yourself that you betray Feel your own blade
cutting deep into your back
Feel your own blood
feel my hate
I'll get you what you need
for the brains that you lack
I'll love to watch you bleed
Cause it's all just
Words without meaning
Words without meaning
All that you say
Words without meaning all just
Words without meaning
All that you say
It's only yourself you've betrayed
