

Rotting Christ, The first field of the battle

The north strongest wind throw arrows in the high wall a captive will survive free he will revive from