Roxette, (Do You Get) Excited?

When the day gets dark Over a thousand streets And you feel your heart Is a living beat When you're all alone And you close your eyes Naked to the bone The dream comes alive Do you get excited When I touch you in the night? My oh my... Do you get excited When I meet you every night? You won't let the night pass you by When your body's hot The window's open wide This moment's all you got In this race of life When you feel the fire Is getting close to you Hey baby, you know I'm lonely too Do you get excited When I touch you in the night? My oh my... Do you get excited When I meet you every night? You won't let the night pass you by Do you get excited When I touch you in the night? My oh my... Do you get excited When I meet you every night? You won't let the night pass you by I wanna know I gotta know
