

Roy Acuff, We Live In Two Different Worlds

We live in two different worlds dear that's why we're so far apart
You made the world out of vows that are broken I built the world in my heart
Everyone here tried to warn me you were just playing a game
I told them all we were meant for each other I thought our worlds were the same [fiddle]
If you stay over in your world oh how my poor heart will pine
Darling one day when your memories wander won't you come over to mine
We live in two different worlds dear my world is honest and true
Sweetheart remember when your world gets lonely I'll still be waiting for you