

Roy Drusky, Long Way Back To Love

Once I tried to tell you that some day his love would end
You just said it's none of mine concern
Now that it's all over you reach out for me again
Back across the bridges we have burned
But it's a long way back to love even though we're just a step apart
It's a long way back to love all the way back through a broken heart

I didn't think that I could take it when you'd walked away
But somehow I made it all alone
Since you've left I've spent the most of every night and day
Gettin' used to knowin' you were gone
And it's a long way...
